Richard Metzger is the Executive Director of the Troy-Pike Cultural Arts Center, Inc. since August, 2007. He was previously Executive Director of YA/YA, Inc., a non-profit and social services organization in New Orleans whose mission was to provide educational experiences and opportunities to empower artistically talented inner city youth to be professionally self supported through creative expression. Prior to that position he was Curator and Director of Exhibits with the Center for Contemporary Arts in Abilene, Texas, for 8 years. He received his BFA work at the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California. He is currently pursuing his MS in Museum Studies at the University of Oklahoma online.
